Have you ever wondered...

Where's...

- a (public) toilet - when you need it - which is in working order
- a (public) playground - when your children want to play
- ...

while...

- visiting another city
- or being abroad...
  - in a foreign country...
  - with an unknown language

Have you ever wondered... (part 2)

- ... and the thing you are looking for are not even called what they are
  - e.g., the Peter Pan Playground in London - there is no such place
- Things may be “within” other things
  - Swing in the playground (which is working?)
  - Postman Pat car - only available during shopping hours outside a shop - at what price?
  - Bars, cafes, restaurants, shops, ... serving/selling (real) (hard) cider
  - ...

Solution:  Whereels... tagging

Whereels... is crowdsourcing location sharing about anything you want to share in any language you want!

Extensible

- New languages may be added
- New countries may be added
- New/alternative spellings of everything
  - Some words are spelled differently in different countries even in the same language
- Tags
  - Subtags
- Properties
  - Attributes: name, address, phone, images, rating, “opening hours”, price, ...
  - Links to: homepage, Google Maps, Swarm/Foursquare, Facebook, ...
- Does the bathroom have a diaper station?
  - Just dreamed this up while making this presentation!
- And much more
